4. Foreign Membership.—The following Corresponding Members were elected to fill the vacancies on the List in 1925:—

Prof. Louis Dollo, Royal Museum of Natural History, Brussels, Belgium, and Dr. Johannes Schmidt, Carlsberg Laboratory, Copenhagen, Denmark.

5. Corresponding Membership.—As described in the Annual Report for 1924 (Paragraph 5), the Society, on the initiation of Council, formed a new class of Corresponding Members, with the object of giving some of the privileges of the Society, at a reduced subscription, to professional zoologists, especially those holding junior posts out of London. Candidates must be recommended by two professional zoologists who are Fellows of the Society, and must be approved by the Council. They are submitted to ballot in the ordinary way, and on election must pay their first annual subscription at the reduced rate of £1 ls., but are absolved from the usual admission fee. They have personal admission to the Gardens and Aquarium, and to the Scientific Meetings, and have the use of the Library, but cannot vote at General Meetings or serve on the Council or Ordinary Committees. When they have been Corresponding Members for five years they may become Fellows without ballot and without paying an Admission Fee, but on payment of the annual subscription of the ordinary Fellowship or the composition fee in lieu thereof. Candidates' proposal forms and full particulars may be obtained from the Office.

The rules for Corresponding Members of the original class have not been altered. Candidates, who must not be resident in Great Britain or Ireland, are selected by Council usually at the November Meeting, and are afterwards submitted to ballot. They are persons of British or Foreign nationality who are either Zoologists of distinction or have done the Society special service, or have otherwise assisted in promoting its objects.

- 6. New Corresponding Members (Division I., Residents Abroad).—The following were elected to fill vacancies on the List:—
 - C. John Pym, Moliwe Plantation, Victoria, Cameroons.
 - Dr. Michael C. Grabham, Quinta do Val, Funchal, Madeira.
 - Dr. G. Kingsley Noble, American Museum of Natural History, New York, U.S.A.
 - John C. Phillips, Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., U.S.A.
 - Sir John Middleton, K.B.E., C.M.G., Governor of the Falkland Islands, Government House, Stanley, Falkland Isles.

 - 9. Medals.—No Medal was conferred in 1925.
- 10. Scientific Grants.—The Council made a donation of £10 to the National Trust towards the preservation of Wicken Fen, and of £25 to the Society for the Protection of the European Bison. In consideration of the great assistance given by the British Marine Biological Association in planning and stocking the Aquarium, and of the services it renders to marine biology, a grant of £300 was made to the Association's Building Fund. A grant of £105 was made to the Building Fund of University College, London, to be applied towards the extension of the Zoological Department, last December, but the payment will come into the accounts of 1926. Life Composition Fees were paid on behalf of Major G. F. Mappin, son of the donor of the Mappin Terraces, and of Mr. W. N. C. van Grutten of the Engineering Firm of Sir Alexander Gibb and Partners, who advised on the engineering side of the Aquarium.

- 11. Scientific Meetings.—The usual twelve meetings for scientific business were held. The Society's Rooms were also lent to a General Meeting of Professional Zoologists, the British Ornithologists' Union, the Avicultural Society, and the Society for the Protection of the Fauna of the Empire.
- 12. Scientific Publications.—The Abstract was issued as usual. The Transactions, suspended during the war, have not been resumed, but the Council has given the Publication Committee power to re-open the Transactions for memoirs deemed of unusual scientific value and requiring quarto illustrations. Of the Proceedings, Part I, 1925, was issued on April 3rd, 1925; Part II on July 21st, 1925; Part III on October 27th, 1925; and Part IV on January 14th, 1926.

Among the papers published in the Proceedings was a valuable memoir on "Parasitism in the Cuckoos" (P.Z.S., 1925 pp. 639-667), by the Rev. F. C. R. Jourdain. The cost of the five beautiful coloured plates with which it was illustrated was provided by a grant of £100, authorised by Professor E. B. Poulton, F.R.S., F.Z.S., from a fund to promote the Study of Organic and Social Evolution, presented in his name to the University of Oxford by his friend Professor James Mark Baldwin.

In the following table are given the number of plates and pages of the Proceedings for the last ten years:—

13. Zoological Record.—Volume 60, containing Records of the literature chiefly of 1923, was published on April 7th, 1925. Volume 61, dealing with the literature of 1924, was published on December 1st, 1925. Of its separate Divisions, General Zoology, Coelenterata, Brachiopoda, Echinoderma, Prochordata and Pisces were published on October 20th, 1925; Mammalia, Arachnida and Insecta on October 21st, 1925; Aves, on October 28th, 1925; Protozoa, Porifera, Vermes, Crustacea and Reptilia on November 5th, 1925; Mollusca on November 10th, 1925; Lists of New Genera and of Abbreviations, on November 17th, 1925.

Thus, under the Editorship of Mr. W. L. Sclater, more progress has been made in accelerating the publication of the Annual Volumes. Volume 62 (Literature of 1925) is in active preparation.

14. Zoological Record: Prices.—On account of the greatly increased cost of production it was found necessary to fix the price of the Annual Volumes, from Volume 58 onwards at £3 (or Subscription price, paid in advance, £2 10s.). As it is recognised that many individual workers do not require the whole volume, it has been arranged to sell the separate Divisions, in paper covers, at the following prices:—

Zoological Record: Finance.—Beginning with Volume 59 (Literature of 1922), the Society undertook to continue responsibility for the Record, if our loss on each volume did not exceed the sum of £500. The loss on any volume cannot be ascertained until long after the responsibility has been incurred. Take as an example, the literature of 1925. The compilation must be undertaken during 1925 and the early months of 1926, and the printing during 1926. A proportion of the receipts in the form of subscriptions before publication should be received during 1926, but many of these, and the proceeds of sales after publication will be received in the course of 1927. Moreover, no close estimate of the cost of printing can be made in advance, as it depends on the size of the volume, the output of literature, and the skill of the editor and recorders in compression. Similarly no close estimate of the receipts from sales and subscriptions can be made in advance. The present position is more favourable than was estimated, chiefly because the actual output of Zoological literature has not yet reached pre-war dimensions. It must also be borne in mind that the Recorders are not yet paid fees commensurate with the time occupied by their skilled work.

In the case of annual volumes, at any date that may be selected the accounts will show receipts from volumes already issued, subscriptions in advance for a volume not yet issued, payments or liabilities to editor, recorders, and searchers for a volume in course of compilation, and liabilities and payments to printers for a volume just issued or in course of compilation, or for both. This state of the finance of the Record will continue to exist even when, as it is hoped shortly will be the case, the volume dealing with the literature of one year is published in the following year, but until now it has been further complicated by arrears due to the War.

The Secretary of the Society, after consultation with the Society's accountant and professional auditors, has arranged for the information of donors to the Record to keep accounts of the Record, beginning with volume 59 (the first to which the Society received extraneous assistance), in the form of a "Zoological Record Fund" made up to the 31st of December each year. To this will be credited all receipts (subscriptions and sales) and donations, including the Society's own contribution of £500, and from it will be deducted the cost of compilation (Editor, Recorders, Searchers and other expenses), and printers' bills.

It is hoped that this "Fund" will before long show a balance sufficient to cover the cost of the next volume to be issued, providing as it were capital for the enterprise, and securing the Society from a loss greater than its own donation of £500. At present some of the assistance given to the Society comes as direct donations, and some in the form of "guarantees." It is now realised that guarantees are not a convenient means of assistance, as the liability on a guarantee cannot be ascertained for at least a year after the volume has been published, and two years after the Society has assumed responsibility for the volume. It is hoped, therefore, that Societies, Institutions and individuals who wish the Record to be maintained will give their assistance in the form of annual contributions to the "Record Fund."

State of "Record Fund" at 31st December, 1925.

- 19. Card Catalogue.—The Librarian and his Assistant have made further progress with the Subject Card Index of the Works in the Society's Library. The Cards for the Geographical (Zoological) Card Index have been completed, and several sections are now available for reference.
- 20. CINEMATOGRAPH RECORDS.—Mr. F. Martin Duncan and the operators of the British Instructional Film Co. Ltd., have taken a further series of records in the Gardens. Some of these records have been exhibited commercially through the British Instructional Film Co., Ltd., and under the agreement profits are accruing to the Society.
- 21. PROSECTORIUM.—The Council has to record, with deep regret, the death of Charles Frederick Sonntag, M.D., the Society's Anatomist since 1919. Dr. Sonntag, who died at the age of 38, was always of frail physique, and during the war contracted phthisis whilst on active service with the Royal Army Medical Corps in Salonika. He was an undaunted worker, and in the six years of his tenure of the post of Anatomist to the Society, he contributed 30 papers to our Scientific Proceedings, chiefly on Vertebrate Anatomy. He had made an enduring reputation as a comparative Anatomist, and in the opinion of those qualified to judge was increasing month by month in breadth of view. His death was a loss to the Society and to science.

The Council referred consideration of the future of the Anatomical post to the Prosectorial Committee, on the recommendation of which it was decided that it should be tenable for a period of three years, with a possible extension for two subsequent years but not for longer. The object of the change is to make the appointment more a Research Fellowship than a permanent post, and to make it possible that a succession of competent young anatomists should enjoy our unrivalled opportunities for research in vertebrate anatomy.

On the recommendation of the Prosectorial Committee, Council appointed to the post of Anatomist under the new conditions, Dr. John Beattie, M.Sc., M.B., Demonstrator in the Anatomical Department at University College, University of London. Dr. Beattie was given permission, as in the case of the late Dr. Sonntag, to continue to hold his appointment at University College, so that he might keep in touch with an active School of Anatomy. Dr. Beattie assumed his duties on January 1st, 1926.

The Council also record their regret at the death, on July 14th, of Frank Evers Beddard, F.R.S., Prosector to the Society from 1884-1915, and Vice-Secretary 1898-1903.

22. Anatomy.—Before his death, two memoirs by the late Dr. Sonntag were published in the Society's Scientific Proceedings, the first part of a study on the Anatomy of Orycteropus afer, and a twelfth and concluding memoir on the Tongues of Mammals. The second part of his Monograph on Orycteropus, written in conjunction with Dr. H. H. Woollard, was published posthumously. To within a few days of his sudden death, Dr. Sonntag continued his researches, and has left manuscripts in an advanced state of preparation. These have been entrusted to the Anatomical Department at University College.

Anatomical material was sent for research or for teaching to the following persons and institutions:-

Miss M. L. Hett, F.Z.S. (Bedford College for Women); Dr. W. E. Le Gros Clark, F.Z.S. (St. Barts.); Dr. H. H. Woollard (University College); Prof. G. Elliot Smith, F.R.S., F.Z.S. (University College); Prof. J. P. Hill, F.R.S., F.Z.S. (University College); Dr. J. Beattie, C.M.Z.S. (University College); Dr. Alister Mackenzie (College of Hygiene, Dunfermline); Prof. P. J. White, F.Z.S. (Zoological Dept., University College of Wales, Bangor); Dr. R. H. Hunter, F.Z.S. (Belfast); Dr. Lloyd Williams (128 Harley Street); Mr. R. H. Burne, F.Z.S. (Royal College of Surgeons); Dr. Kolinsky (University College); Dr. J. G. Turner, F.Z.S. (59, Wimpole Street); Mr. E. J. Fisher (11, Weighton Road, Anerley, S.E.); Dr. Neave (Royal Ophthalmic Hospital); Prof. Whitnall

(Canada); Mr. H. C. Malleson (Dentist, Hampstead); Miss E. M. Knobel, F.Z.S.; Mr. L. R. Brightwell, F.Z.S.; Lt.-Comdr. F. C. Cadogan, R.N., F.Z.S.

Specimens have also been sent to the British Museum (Nat. Hist.), the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, the National Museum of Wales and Tring Museum.

23. Pathology.—Dr. H. H. Scott reports:—

"The number of post-mortem examinations performed during the year was just 10 per cent less than in 1924. Among them, however, has been an exceptionally large proportion of subjects of pathological interest and importance. Several of these have been recorded from time to time in the quarterly reports to the Committee dealing with details of work carried out at the Prosectorium.

Demonstrations have been given and papers read at the Scientific Meetings:—

- (1) On certain Protozoal Parasites found in the Blood.
- (2) On an outbreak of Kangaroo disease—Nocardiosis macropodidarum—which proved fatal to several Bennett's Wallabies.
- (3) On a series of Renal Abnormalities met with in Mammals, Birds and Reptiles.

A lecture with a demonstration on blood parasites, based on the findings at the Prosectorium, was also given at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine.

In addition, investigations have been carried out on enteritis, which is responsible for a large proportion of deaths amongst all classes of animals in the Gardens. These investigations have resulted in the isolation of certain organisms which were the causes of some of the fatalities, notably B. aertrycke, a food-poisoning bacillus of the Salmonella group, which was isolated from twelve out of sixteen Hamadryas baboons. It is highly probable that one of these had arrived carrying the causative organism, and had spread it to some of its companions.

Another bacillus belonging to the same group was isolated from two Patas monkeys, which died from general septicæmia extending from the local intestinal inflammation.

A very fatal mycotic disease amongst Batrachians has been the subject of a prolonged research, and a detailed account of this is in the course of preparation together with photographs and microphotographs kindly taken by Mr. F. W. Bond and Mr. F. Martin Duncan to illustrate the pathological conditions produced.

Specimens of interest from the point of view of Comparative Pathology have been sent to the Museum of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, where there is to be a separate department of Comparative Pathology when the School is opened.

The following have also received material:—Professor Elliot Smith, Prof. J. P. Hill, Prof. G. H. F. Nuttall (Cambridge), Dr. W. E. Le Gros Clark (London), Prof. White (Bangor), Prof. Whitnall (Toronto), Dr. Stanley Griffith (Cambridge), Dr. C. M. Wenyon, Dr. J. J. Simpson (Cardiff), Dr. Turner, Dr. Lloyd Williams, Dr. G. C. Low, Dr. Woollard, Dr. R. H. Hunter (Belfast), Dr. Alister Mackenzie (Dunfermline), L. R. Brightwell, Esq., Miss M. L. Hett (Bedford College), Miss Knobel, Dr. Kolensky (Prague), and others."

24. Professor R. T. Leiper, F.R.S., reports:—"The animals dying in the Gardens during the past year, with the exception of rare specimens reserved by the Anatomist for morphological studies, have been examined by the Pathologist for parasitic entozoa and the material collected has been identified and reported upon periodically to the Prosectorial Committee. The identifications have been undertaken by a panel of parasitologists formed by the Staff and associated workers of the Institute of Agricultural Parasitology (Ministry of Agriculture), and the Helminthological Department of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. The following have participated in the scheme:—T. W. M. Cameron, M.R.C.V.S.,

Ph.D., B.Sc., R. J. Ortlepp, M.A., Ph.D., F.Z.S., T. Goodey, D.Sc., D. O. Morgan, B.Sc., G. S. Thapar, M.Sc., Ph.D., R. T. Leiper, M.D., D.Sc., F.R.S., F.Z.S., Miss M. Triffitt, M.Sc., F.Z.S.

- 25. Sanatorium.—This was refitted in 1922 as a quarantine station and a hospital for the treatment of sick animals. It is in charge of Dr. Vevers, the Superintendent of the Gardens, who receives valuable advice from Professor Wooldridge, F.Z.S., Honorary Consulting Veterinary Surgeon to the Society, and from the Curators.
- 26. VISITORS TO THE GARDENS.—The total number of visitors to the Gardens in 1925 was 1,823,613, the second largest in the history of the Society. The following Tables give comparative figures:—

The husband or wife of a Fellow may use this privilege in the absence of the Fellow, but both husband and wife may not admit visitors on the same day. Honorary, Foreign and Corresponding Members have personal admission only.

Other Visitors.—On Sundays only when personally accompanied and signed for as above, or on presentation of tickets. Written messages or the visiting cards of Fellows cannot be accepted. The Children, with their Teachers, must be out of the Gardens by 1 p.m. School orders admitting to the Aquarium on Tuesdays only between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. are issued at the same price.

29. Gardens' Staff.—The Council records its regret at the death of Edward Ockenden, Assistant Superintendent, after a short illness. Ockenden, who was 73 years of age, had been more than 50 years continuously in the service of the Society. In 1873 he was brought from Charing Cross Hospital Medical School by A. H. Garrod, the Prosector. In 1907, after 34 years in the Prosectorium, during which period he had assisted many well-known Anatomists, and had taught a number of travellers the methods of making skins and preserving specimens, he was given a house in the Gardens and became Assistant to the Superintendent with general Supervision over the Keepers. His duties did not bring him into close connection with many of the Fellows, but he had rendered invaluable services to the Society. His widow was granted a pension.

The Council appointed Charles H. Hicks, Chief Assistant at the Prosectorium, to succeed Ockenden. Hicks has special knowledge and ability in the treatment of sick animals, and showed great competence on a recent journey to Singapore to bring home a collection of animals for the Society.

Miss L. E. Cheesman has ceased to be Curator of Insects. She was appointed Assistant Curator in May, 1917, as the Curator, the late Professor Lefroy, was prevented by War duties from giving sufficient time. In 1920, when Professor Lefroy became Honorary Curator, but continued to give advice and general supervision, Miss Cheesman was made Curator. In September, 1923, she was granted ten months' leave of absence, subsequently extended, as she wished to go on a collecting expedition. She returned to London in September, 1925, but declined the reappointment offered to her by Council for 1926. Mr. L. C. Bushby, who had acted as Curator with great efficiency during Miss Cheesman's two years' absence, was appointed on the usual year's probation.

No other changes of importance have taken place on the Staff.

- 30. Gatekeepers.—The opening of the Aquarium required the appointment of two additional gatekeepers, raising the permanent staff to seven. In addition, extra gatekeepers are taken on when required, and by arrangement with the Corps of Commissionaires, the same men are generally employed, so that a large number are familiar with the duties, and it is no longer necessary to take keepers from their duties in the Gardens for relief service at the gates.
- 31. Gardening Department.—In spite of the bad weather in the early part of the year, the Gardening Staff, under the supervision of Mr. W. Wall, the head Gardener, provided an excellent succession of tulips in the Spring, and all through the summer months the beds in the main walk and flower gardens were a blaze of colour which lasted well on into September. The turf in all the aviaries and paddocks was renewed as usual in the early spring.

In addition to this routine work the portion of the Flower Garden opposite the main Refreshment rooms was remodelled and raised, and a new herbaceous border was formed in the place of an unsightly shrubbery. A privet hedge was planted along the south side of the Outer circle, so as to screen the Gardens from the road. This was in continuance of a scheme started in 1924, when a similar hedge was planted along the north side of the circle.

The south bank of the Canal from the east bridge to the Elephant House was cleared of shrubs, and planted with three thousand golden spur daffodils, the gift of the President.

32. Special Works.—It will be remembered that in last year's Report, several items of work were mentioned which were to be carried out in 1925. All of these were completed early in the year.

Roads.—All the roads in the Middle Garden were resurfaced with tarmacadam suitable for heavy traffic.

Band-Stand and Tea Pergola.—These were completed and proved satisfactory, the Band-stand giving even an excess of resonance. The experiment is to be made this season of lessening the volume of sound directed towards the Tea Pavilion by hanging transparent curtains.

Cloak Room and Tea Bars.—The old Tea Bar near the North entrance was fitted up to give accommodation for parcels or wraps deposited by visitors, and a new Tea and Light Refreshment Bar was erected near the Owls' Aviary to replace it. The dilapidated Tea Bar in the Middle Garden opposite the Parrot House was replaced by a new and more commodious structure.

Monkey Hill.—A large rockwork enclosure 100 feet long by 60 feet wide was constructed on the triangular piece of ground behind the Mappin Terraces. There are two masses of rock, enclosing cave shelters for a troop of 80 Hamadryas Baboons which were turned out on the rocks in early spring. Inside the caves are large cages with wooden shelves which are warmed from below by electric radiators and lighted from above by quartz incandescent electric lamps. Some of the outside rocky ledges are also warmed electrically and lighted by quartz lamps which can be turned on when the weather is dull. This rocky island is entirely surrounded by a ditch 12 feet deep and 18 feet wide, across which the baboons cannot jump.

The rockwork was carried out by Messrs. Pulham and Son in accordance with a model designed by Miss J. B. Procter. This new feature was a great attraction to visitors throughout the year, and it has opened up a corner of the Gardens which was formerly very little frequented.

Experimental Monkey House.—In the Garden improvements scheme outlined in last year's Report, mention was made of a new Apes' and Monkeys' House to be erected when space was available and funds would permit. Before embarking on the construction of a large and expensive building such as this would entail, the Council thought it advisable to make an experiment over a period of two or three years on a small scale, so as to ensure an installation as perfect as possible in every detail for the housing of all the Primates from Anthropoid Apes to the most delicate Marmoset.

For this purpose a full-size model representing three sections of the proposed new Ape and Monkey House was erected on the piece of ground adjoining the Monkey Hill. This house consists of an inside and an outside run of cages with floors of different materials, all of which can be heated by steam to any desired temperature. Above all the cages, both inner and outer, are groups of quartz incandescent lamps under strong reflectors. These lamps are similar to those in use on the Monkey Hill, and are permeable to ultra-violet rays. A supply of "artificial sunlight" is thus provided for the Monkeys during the dull winter days. The Society is indebted to Mr. J. Spedan Lewis, F.Z.S., a member of Council, for a generous donation to defray the cost of the experimental plant.

One small Orang-utan, some African Monkeys and a number of very delicate Marmosets from Tropical South America were chosen as the first inmates. These have now been in the house for upwards of a year, and the results have been most promising. Further observations are to be made, but it already seems clear that the combination of cold fresh air, warmed shelves and radiant light and heat will provide the most suitable conditions for most kinds of Apes and Monkeys in this climate. If some benefactor would provide the large sum required, the construction of an Ape and Monkey House might be undertaken at an early date.

33. Ordinary Works.—The following are some of the more important items of maintenance and repairs which have been carried out in the Gardens during the year by the Works Staff under the careful supervision of Mr. W. Ball, Clerk of Works to the Society, who is to be congratulated on the excellent way in which the work has been executed.

North Garden.

Pheasantries have been re-wired throughout.

NORTH MAMMAL HOUSE.—Another of the outside end cages of this house was heightened for the reception of a collection of Gibbons.

CIVETS' HOUSE.—This house was put in thorough repair. The show cages were lined with green tiles to a height of four feet, and the exterior was rough-cast.

ROADS.—The road along the North Bank was tarred and topped with granite chippings in the early summer.

Middle Garden.

SMALL MAMMAL House.—The outside cage accommodation in this house has been enlarged. All the existing cages have been raised to the level of the eaves of the house, and an extra cage has been provided at the north end for the South American monkeys.

Canal Bank Aviary.—This large aviary has been re-wired, new shelters have been made to replace old ones, and the whole painted and put in good repair.

HIPPOPOTAMUS HOUSE.—The pond for the large Hippos inside the house has been made shallower in anticipation of the birth of a young animal this summer.

South Garden.

New shelters, replacing old unsightly boxes, kennels, etc., have been made and placed in the following positions:—Raccoons' enclosure, Lion House Paddocks, Summer Aviary and Three Island Pond.

The following have been re-wired:—Wolves' Dens (south side), Three Island Pond, Kites' Aviary, Lion House Paddocks.

Eastern Aviary.—Sundry repairs to the roof have been effected, and a new boiler installed to replace one which had worn out.

AQUARIUM.—Two concrete tanks were made in the Tropical Breeding Room to rear water-weeds. A partition was built between the boiler and the engine room to prevent dust and grit from getting into the engines.

A mess room and stores were partitioned off under the Mappin Terraces for the electricians and stokers.

Provision was made for five new small sea-water tanks in the sea-water hall of the Aquarium.

The Aquarium was painted throughout.

Sanatorium.—The entire building, including the operating theatre, pharmacy stores, etc., was thoroughly cleaned, disinfected with blow-lamps and repainted throughout.

34. Miscellaneous Works. Drainage.—The drain from the main Refreshment Rooms was relaid as it had been in a bad state of repair for some time. Several other large drains in different parts of the Gardens were renewed, and many old gulleys and cracked manhole covers were replaced.

Dung-pound.—The ramp at the Dung-pound Yard was rebuilt, and a crane capable of lifting two tons was erected. A high wall was built to screen the yard from the public in the gardens and was fitted with a large pair of sliding gates.

Drinking Fountains.—Four public Drinking Fountains which had been dismantled were re-erected at various points in the Gardens.

Work for Gardeners' Department.—The lower terrace of the Propagating Department was lengthened, and four more frames erected to increase the accommodation for bedding-out plants.

A spring-cart was made by the Society's carpenters to suit the requirements of the Head Gardener.

STABLES.—The Stables in the Works Yard were re-roofed and put in good repair.

Reservoirs.—One of the main reservoirs was cleaned, relined with bitumastic enamel, and covered with rubberoid roofing.

Office Staff has been constructed in the basement of the Offices.

A fireproof operator's box has been erected in the Meeting Room for the cinematograph projector.

ELECTRICAL FITTINGS.—Under the direction of Mr. H. P. Davolls, the Society's Electrician, electric lighting and power have been installed in the garage and Works Department. A temporary cable has been run to the Reptile and Tortoise Houses, and ultra-violet lamps have been fixed over the Tropical Lizard enclosure. This has made it possible to keep these delicate creatures alive and well through the winter for the first time in the history of the Society.

Water Supply.—The amount of water pumped from the new deep well has averaged 30,000 gallons per day. This, and other steps which have been taken to save water wastages have reduced the amount of water supplied by the Metropolitan Water Board during the last quarter of the year by 3,000,000 gallons. There seems no doubt that the well will ensure a sufficient supply of water for the Gardens should a severe drought occur, as was the case in 1921, when the Water Board was forced to cut down their supply to the Gardens.

35. Special Works for 1926.—In prosecution of the policy of carrying out much of the constructional and repairing work in the Gardens during the winter months, when least inconvenience is caused to visitors, the Council arranged the programme of special 1926 works in the course of 1925, giving final sanction at the November Meeting, when the financial results of the year were known approximately. The very unsettled weather of December, 1925, and January, 1926, delayed progress, but it is hoped that the following will be completed or far advanced by the date of the Annual Meeting:—

Roads.—The larger part of the remaining area in the South Garden is being re-surfaced with tarmacadam. In the normal course all the roads and paths in the Gardens will have undergone this treatment by the end of 1928, to the great comfort of visitors and the staff.

North Gate Extension and Ladies' Lavatory.—The North Gate has become inadequate for the number of visitors on busy days. Three additional pairs of turnstiles are being provided. The Ladies' Lavatory is being rebuilt in an improved form. The opportunity has been taken to widen the path from the Canal Bridge to the Rodent House.

Tunnel Bar.—The Refreshment Bar in the Old Tunnel, which was unsatisfactory and caused congestion in the traffic, has been removed. It is being replaced by a more commodious building on the slope facing the Kangaroo Paddock, and the north approach to the tunnel is being widened.

Ladies' Lavatory, South Garden.—A new Ladies' Lavatory is being constructed in the South Garden, in the bank near the Tortoise House.

Lion House Roof.—The roof over the public portion of the Lion House had been in a bad state of repair for some time. On the north side the slates, which were crumbling away, have been removed and replaced by Poilite tiles. On the south side the three false gables have been removed and the whole roof glazed with "Vitaglass" which is permeable to the ultra-violet rays of the sun. All the windows in the House and alternate roof-lights have been made to open. The whole of the interior and exterior has been cleaned, painted and distempered.

Re-Seating the Meeting Room.—The Meeting Room has been re-seated and re-arranged. The old benches, formerly in the Hanover Square house, have been replaced by chairs with folding seats, and the lantern-screen and Chairman's dais have been placed in a more convenient position.

36. GARDENS IMPROVEMENT SCHEME. NEW REPTILE House.—A great step has been taken towards the Gardens Improvement Scheme, described on pp. 33 et seq. of the Report for 1924. The Monkey Hill and Experimental Monkey House having been completed, the Council felt justified by the financial position in giving the order for the construction of the New Reptile House. A sketch plan had been prepared by Miss Joan B. Procter, the Curator of Reptiles, with assistance from the other Officers of the Society, and after study of the installations in other Gardens. This was further elaborated by the Garden Committee, and then given as a general instruction to Mr. E. Guy Dawber, President of the Royal Institute of Mr. Dawber's plans were accepted in British Architects. December, tenders were received before the end of January, 1926, and the construction was begun in February. It is expected that it will be opened in 1927.

The site, as already stated, extends from the Apes' House, the lower part of which will be incorporated, to the Summer Aviary. The interior, so far as possible, will be lighted on the Aquarium principle, and there will be adequate provision for heating, ventilation, "artificial sunlight" and service.

The next stage in the Improvements Scheme is the transformation of the shell of the present Reptile House into a House for Small Birds, and provision for other birds in that part of the Gardens. A Sub-Committee of the Garden Committee is working out the details. The third stage, the provision of a new house for all the Apes and Monkeys, must await the very large sum of money it will require.

37. Band.—The Band of the 65th (8th London) Field Brigade, Royal Artillery, has again been engaged for the season. It will play on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from May 29th, 1926 to August 29th, 1926, inclusive.

The Fellows' Pavilion is inadequate on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The experiment was made in the Summer of 1925 of reserving the New Tea Pavilion for Fellows on these days. This gives accommodation to a very much larger number of Fellows, and appears to suit the general convenience of Fellows, although the change was disliked by some who had been accustomed to the older arrangement.

38. Refreshment Department.—The Accounts have been audited, as usual, by Messrs. Edward Moore & Sons. The gross profits for 52 weeks to Sept. 26th, 1925, amounted, after feeding the Staff, to £38,908 1s. 8d. The working expenses for the same period amounted to £17,393 5s. 3d., leaving a trading profit of £21,514 16s. 5d. After making the usual allowances for rent, depreciation, and licence duties, etc., and allotting the receipts from the lavatories on the same lines as last year, deducting the Manager's salary and percentage, and providing for the cost of replacing the Elephant Bar and Rodent House Bars, there was a net profit to the Society amounting to £14,319 0s. 9d. Of that amount, the sum of £319 0s. 9d. was allotted to repaying the Works Department for work carried out at the Refreshment Rooms. The balance of £14,000 Os. Od. has been carried forward, but out of this

- £2,800 must be reserved towards the payment of Income Tax, Schedule D. At the request of the Council, the Committee of Auditors appointed in January, 1925, held a special meeting to audit the accounts of the Refreshment Department. The results of their investigations have been incorporated in the accounts of the Society for the current year.
- 39. AQUARIUM.—The Aquarium continues to work well from the technical side, the heating, lighting, circulating, filtering and aerating plants proving satisfactory. Dr. Stowell, the Aquarium Research Fellow, has employed himself chiefly in investigating the chemical and physical changes in the water. The results of his work have been published in the Scientific Proceedings of the Society. They show by comparison with fresh sea-water that the natural conditions pertaining to the sea are closely reproduced and maintained in the Aquarium, a conclusion that has received practical confirmation from the success of the marine life and freedom from epidemics in the tanks. A refrigerating plant was installed to keep the sea-water from rising too high in temperature during the Summer months, and five small tanks have been added to the sea-water hall. collection received many notable additions.
- 40. AQUARIUM: REVENUE AND MAINTENANCE.—The Aquarium income, from gate money, sale of tickets to Fellows and interest on the Reserve Fund amounted to £16,286 0s. 6d. in 1925, and the cost of maintenance was £7,853 12s. 3d.
- 41. AQUARIUM: RULES FOR ADMISSION.—Experience continues to show that some restrictions on admission to the Aquarium are necessary, apart from finance, to prevent the crowded state from spoiling the pleasure of visitors. In 1925, Fellows were allowed to take two visitors with them on Sundays, and the result of this concession was that the proportion of Sunday to Weekday visitors was greater than in the year of opening. If all visitors to the Gardens on Sundays were also admitted to the Aquarium, the Fellows' day would be spoiled. Fellows are to retain their privilege of taking two visitors personally with them on Sundays, but if they desire to admit or to send others, they must purchase tickets from the Office in advance for them. The rules for admission to the Aquarium are as follows:—

On Sundays, admission is restricted to Fellows who come in person and two friends whom they may take in with them, and to persons for whom they have purchased Aquarium tickets in advance at 1s. each, but Fellows are specially requested in the general interest to use this privilege sparingly.

Fellows may also purchase Aquarium ivory tickets for the sum of £10, valid for the duration of the Fellowship, and admitting two persons to the Aquarium on any day, Sunday or Week-day.

On Week-days Fellows have free personal admission; all others must be provided with Aquarium tickets or pay at the Aquarium turnstile 1s. each for adults, and 6d. each for children under 12, except on Mondays, not Bank Holidays, when the price will be 6d. for everyone. On Bank Holidays the price for adults is 1s. each and for children under 12, 6d. each.

42. Menagerie.—The collection of Animals has been more than restored to the pre-war level, and in many sections is finer than ever before. The Society is indebted to many Fellows, Corresponding Members, and Private Donors, to Institutions, Societies and Shipping Companies for gifts or assistance in transport. Specially to be mentioned in respect of 1925, are H. E. Captain C. H. Armitage, F.Z.S., Governor of the Gambia, Dr. Thomas Barbour, C.M.Z.S., of Harvard University, U.S.A., Mrs. E. B. Carter, F.Z.S., of Madeira, Mr. C. Boden Kloss, F.Z.S., and the Raffles Museum, Singapore, the Bombay Natural History Society, and the Zoological Society of Calcutta, Mr. W. G. Stirling, F.Z.S., of Singapore, Messrs. Alfred Holt & Co., the Union Castle Steamship Company, and the British India Steam Navigation Co., through Messrs. Gray, Dawes & Co.

The health of the collection has been good, and the care given to sanitation is having a marked effect. The complete replacement of fresh milk by condensed milk has notably reduced tuberculosis. The results of the application of radiant light and heat are promising.

- 48. STATE OF THE FINANCES.—The Report of the Auditors of the Accounts for 1925 is issued to Fellows, bound with this Report.
- 49. Assets 1924 and 1925.—The Total Assets of the Society amounted to £157,156 14s. 5d., an increase of £17,231 7s. 4d. on the corresponding figures for 1924. As, however, a sum of £40,666 13s. 3d. has been ear-marked towards the cost of the New Reptile House, the construction of which has begun, the increase of free assets has been transformed into a decrease of £23,435 5s. 11d.
- 50. Liabilities 1924 and 1925. The liabilities amounted to £50,715 2s. 6d., an increase of £42,732 18s. on the corresponding figures for 1924. These include the sum of £1,500 estimated value of Aquarium tickets sold but not used at Dec. 31st, 1925. The sum of £40,666 13s. 3d. referred to in paragraph 49 is included in the liabilities. Deducting it, the increase of liabilities amounts to £2,066 4s. 9d.

- 51. Balance 1924 and 1925.—The balance, a surplus of assets over liabilities, amounted to £106,441 11s. 11d., a decrease of £25,501 10s. 8d. on the corresponding figure for 1924, representing the sum of the decrease in assets (paragraph 49) and increase in liabilities (paragraph 50), and is accounted for by the cost of garden improvements (see paragraph 53).
- 52. Income 1924 and 1925.—There was a net decrease in income of £19,527 2s. 6d. due to gate-money. The results, however, surpassed our expectations (see paragraph 58, Report for 1924). The opening of the Aquarium and the influx of visitors to London for the first year of the Wembley Exhibition brought about an abnormal expansion of our receipts in 1924.
- 53. Expenditure 1924 and 1925.—There was an increase of £26,221 19s. 7d. in expenditure, as the funds available made it possible to proceed with improvements.
- 54. The Council wishes to acknowledge the assistance received during the past year from the members of the Committee of Publication, upon whom devolved, in accordance with the Bye-laws, the arrangement and supervision of the Society's Scientific Publications.

55. The Council has finally to ask you to thank those Fellows of the Society who have audited the Accounts for the past year.

Signed (for the Council),
P. CHALMERS MITCHELL,

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF AUDITORS OF THE ACCOUNTS

OF THE

ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY

OF LONDON,

APPOINTED 20th JANUARY, 1926.

To

25th February, 1926

The Zoological Society of London, Regent's Park, N.W.S.

In accordance with Chapter X of the By-laws, we have examined the Accounts of the Society for the year ended 31st December, 1925, as presented to us by Messrs, W. B. Keen & Co., the Chartered Accountants appointed to assist us in our We report to the Society that at that date the Total Assets amounted to £157,156 14s. 5d., and the Liabilities to £50,715 2s. 6d. The General State of the Funds of the Society therefore showed a surplus of Assets over Liabilities amounting to £106,441 11s. 11d., subject to the estimated values of some of the Assets. Cash in the Bankers' hands and at the Office amounted to £23,785 17s. 9d.

For the further information of the Fellows of the Society a Balance Sheet and Income and Expenditure Account for the year are annexed hereto. These have been audited and are certified by Messrs. W. B. Keen & Co. The result of the working of the Refreshment Department for the year ended 26th September, 1925, is incorporated in the Statements, the Accounts of that Department having been separately audited and certified by Messrs. Edward Moore & Sons, Chartered Accountants. We have examined the Statements of Account and in our opinion the Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Funds of the Society (subject to the estimated values of some of the Assets) according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shewn by the Books of the Society.
